

Welcome to the Community Wellbeing Benefits Newsletter for Quarter 2 of the Financial Year 2025/2026

Within this quarter’s newsletter we are not only looking at all of the local CWB delivery but also saying goodbye to our Strategy & Development Manager, John.

John Paxton is retiring from his role as Strategy and Development Manager in the Procurement Team. John’s impact has been felt across the four Ardal councils - Cardiff, Monmouthshire, Torfaen and the Vale of Glamorgan. John led projects that have resulted in the development and implementation of standardised Contract Procedure Rules along with supporting policies and procedures, plus the adoption of broadly identical Socially Responsible Procurement Policies and Strategies across all Ardal Councils.

Throughout his 10 plus years with the Procurement Team, John has been recognised for his strategic insight, his collaborative working ethos and his role in fostering a positive working environment. The innovative work of John’s Team in embedding socially responsible procurement across Cardiff Council has been recognised at numerous UK and Welsh Procurement Awards over the years. John is particularly proud of his role in Cardiff becoming a real Living Wage City and his Team’s work on carbon reduction, tackling modern slavery and increasing the community well-being benefits delivered by contractors. All the Team’s policy work is driven by robust spend data analytics.

John will be working with Simon Robison his successor until 2026 to ensure a smooth transition. As John embarks on this new chapter, colleagues wish him all the best for a well-deserved and long retirement.

ARDAL UPDATES - MODERN SLAVERY

The Scott Memorial Lighthouse at Cardiff's Roath Park lake glowed red on 18 October for Anti Slavery Day. Lighting up this landmark helps raise awareness of modern slavery and human trafficking. Cardiff Council is committed to keeping these crimes out of our business & supply chains : orlo.uk/XFzFc

MODERN SLAVERY

Modern Slavery

by Jeff Norman

Ardal's Modern slavery team are keen to offer assistance / advice / support to any of our suppliers who have made commitments through the Community Well-being benefits process regarding Modern Slavery. This can also include a review of existing relevant documents and other processes you may already have in place.

Our focus is on a commitment to support global and local supply chain initiatives to manage and mitigate risks through supply chain mapping, staff training and contract management. We would welcome an opportunity to discuss the opportunity further, and to identify where we might be able to assist and support the delivery of the community well-being benefits commitments you have made.

If you need support with any modern slavery support please contact the CWB team on cwb@cardiff.gov.uk

COMMUNITY IMPACT - MOSS ROSE COTTAGE

As a new ongoing feature within the newsletter we are looking to promote the good news stories coming out of contractor engagement with local projects.

This quarter we are focusing on Moss Rose cottage in Rumney. See below Bernadette's story, Founder and Executive Director of Moss Rose Cottage.

As the founder of a small Not-for-Profit organisation in Rumney Cardiff called Moss Rose Cottage, and as the only full time member of staff there; I cannot express just how grateful I am for every single moment of time, kindness and expertise, generously offered by so many contractors over the last few years, as they honour and truly embody their Social Value commitments within the local community.

At Moss Rose Cottage we support adults with non-visible barriers, offering social opportunities and skills to enable people to create full and satisfying lives for themselves.

This contractor support is vital in allowing us to continue to offer this service which is free to all.

There are so many gaps in my skill set and limits to my financial opportunities, that without such specialist input, there is no way that I would be able to maintain our beautiful surroundings and keep our attendees safe there without this assistance.

In addition to the practical input such as mending and building sheds, improving gates, fencing and gardening that has been done by all, we also benefited hugely from specific Health & Safety appraisals, advice and input from Wates; Digital support and advice from CMB in addition to the meticulous preparations for our recent birthday party and Christmas sale entirely overseen by the team from Keir. Incredibly, Kier have also created specific architectural drawings for us, which will allow me to apply for a substantial grant in the near future, finally making Moss Rose Cottage accessible to wheelchair users.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

As a result of this support, I have been inspired and enabled to keep moving forward, even when I am struggling and overwhelmed during some pretty dark days.

Lastly, regarding financial support, we are particularly grateful to have been given a contract to engrave a personalised plant pot for each new home in Wates' latest development 'Caeu Masarn/Maple Fields' giving us a vital source of revenue. We were also supported by Wates Construction to apply for a Wates Family Enterprise Trust grant earlier this year, which enabled us to complete a huge project supporting Unpaid Carers earlier this year. More about that next time.

So a huge thank you to you all, but special mentions to Sophie from Wates, Jess from Kier and Sarah from CMB. I hope you recognise what an impact you have had.

If your community project needs help from local contractors, reach out at cwb@cardiff.gov.uk. Partners can offer volunteer hours, modest funding, and specialist skills.

We share all suitable requests with local Ardal projects. Contractors decide their level of support, so assistance arranged through the CWB team can't be guaranteed.

KNOX & WELLS - LLANISHEN FACH

The new Dosbarth Enfys meaning Rainbow Class at Llanishen Fach Primary School was built to offer a nurturing, fully integrated environment where diversity is celebrated and every child is supported to thrive.

The purpose-built facility delivered by Knox & Wells, and procured via the SEWSCAP3 Framework will provide much-needed places for children with severe and complex learning needs, helping Cardiff address the increasing demand for specialist provision.

Key Features of the New Building

- Four purpose-built classrooms designed for children with severe and complex learning needs.
- Multipurpose OT room for therapy and specialist support.
- Large indoor-outdoor classroom with biophilic design (light, nature, calm).
- Bespoke sensory room for regulation and wellbeing.
- Accessible facilities for personal care.
- Space for a large staff team to collaborate, offering joined-up, child-led approaches

The £4.4m development has been funded by the Welsh Government's Band B programme, with support from the Council's capital programme. As with all Education Projects, Community Wellbeing Benefits (CWB) form part of the tender assessment. Knox and Wells have linked in with the local community to support the u9s Rhiwbina Squirrels Rugby team to provide one of the Main sponsors for the next 2 years.

Members of the team were presented with the kit at site with key members of the construction team.

Knox & Wells were delighted to present the Rhiwbina Squirrels U9s rugby team with their new kit yesterday at Cardiff Council's freshly completed Specialist Resource Base in Llanishen Fach Primary School.

We're very proud to support such a great club and community, and we wish the boys the best of luck in their coming season!

LOVELL HOUSING PARTNERSHIP LAUNCH

New era for housing delivery in Cardiff and Vale

Cardiff Council, Vale of Glamorgan Council and housing specialist Lovell Partnerships have formally established a partnership to deliver a transformative housing scheme across the region.

The first of its kind in recent years with two councils working together with a developer, the collaboration marks a significant milestone in the local authorities' commitment to providing high-quality, affordable, and market-sale homes for communities in their areas.

Marking the formal start of the partnership, after Lovell Partnerships was appointed as preferred bidder to deliver the Cardiff and Vale Housing Partnership earlier this year, Leader of Cardiff Council, Cllr Huw Thomas and Cabinet Member for Housing and Communities, Cllr Lynda Thorne were joined by Leader of Vale of Glamorgan Council, Councillor Lis Burnett and Vale Cabinet Member for Public Sector Housing and Tenant Engagement, Cllr Sandra Perkes and Regional Managing Director, James Duffett, Regional Project Director, Shane Jay and Regeneration and Partnerships Director, Mary Parsons from Lovell at County Hall, Cardiff Bay today to sign the partnership charter.

The charter sets the partnership's vision and objectives to deliver affordable homes and regenerate communities across Cardiff and the Vale, with around 2,500 homes including around 1,600 new council homes across 25 sites.

This quarter our CWB team met with the Lovell team around the housing partnership.

This was a great way to get to know everyone involved with the project from Lovell, Cardiff and the Vale Council teams to discuss CWB delivery across the 2 Local Authorities.

CARDIFF ARENA: BUILDING A VENUE AND A BETTER COMMUNITY

The development of the new Cardiff Arena has officially begun!

Beyond creating a world-class venue, this project is committed to delivering significant Community Well-Being Benefits (CWB) for the local area.

Every major partner - including McLaren and Roberston's, has agreed to a wide range of CWB commitments. These are designed to ensure the community directly benefits from the construction, focusing on five vital areas:

Jobs & Skills: Training and recruiting local people who are currently economically inactive.

Local Economy: Boosting the supply chain and collaborating with the 3rd Sector.

Education: Delivering key educational initiatives.

Culture & Life: Supporting community and cultural projects.

Environment: Implementing important environmental initiatives.

The Community Well-Being Benefits team is excited to partner with the Contract Managers and our contractors to bring these commitments to life. Look out for our upcoming newsletter, where we'll share the latest construction progress alongside the positive impact of our CWB delivery in your area!

GOOD NEWS STORIES MORGAN SINDALL

LLAMAU SLEEP ON IT

Morgan Sindall were proud to support Sleep on It 2025, arranged by V3 Group Ltd to raise funds and awareness for Llamau. It was more than just a sleepout – such a powerful experience which was designed to bring us all closer to the reality that unfortunately too many people face every single night. Not only did we wake up on World Homelessness Day but also to find out we'd raised £420 for Llamau.

PARTNERSHIP WITH SPOTT COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS

Throughout the duration of the project, we have committed to supporting SCV, a local charity based in Splott.

We are pleased to be sponsoring one breakfast club a month which will help the charity to deliver hot food and a bag of shopping to approximately 120 people who attend on a weekly basis. We have also volunteered our time to help with several events and initiatives.

BIG CARDIFF TIDY 2025

In collaboration with our wonderful Supply Chain Partners, Splott Community Volunteers and Keep Wales Tidy, we recently took part in the Big Cardiff Tidy. 2025. Focussing our efforts in Tremorfa Park, 33 bags of waste were collected and disposed of.

HALE BUTE ST PROJECT

GET IN TO CONSTRUCTION EVENT

What happened?

After working in Butetown for several months, it was clear that many local individuals were unaware of all of the opportunities in the field of construction.

Hale decided to link in with the IntoWork service to deliver a 'Get into Construction' event. This event was to showcase the breadth of opportunities in construction, and introduce people to construction partners who could help with just getting started, to getting paid employment.

Thanks to the Hyatt Trust, we were able to host this event at the Butetown Community Centre, attracting over 50 individuals. A following 10 of these individuals were able to attend Hale's live construction site on a guest tour to explore the opportunities on site.

Results and Next Steps

From the sessions held, every individual was signed up with the IntoWork Service and encouraged to continue on to complete their CSCS card.

Hale have since had individuals from this session complete on work experience placement on our Bute Street development.

We hope to see many more individuals from this session coming through the service and seeking opportunities to enter the world of construction.

STAKEHOLDER INVOLVEMENT

The success of this initiative was made possible by the collaboration between Hale, the IntoWork service, Cardiff and the Vale College and Sacyr. All came together to deliver presentations and were able to answer any follow up queries.

Without the support from these partners, we would not have been able to offer support, right from entry level training, to apprenticeships and live employment opportunities.

Grangetown Boys & Girls Club: Community Garden

We spent a day in their community garden, transforming it to support the club's ambition in growing their own food for their healthy cooking club. This will educate their young people in where food comes from, as well as fostering independent living skills and increase self-esteem and confidence. We cleared weeds, pruned trees, prepared their raised beds for planting, removed rubbish, planted flowers and removed graffiti.

Spotlight on Apprenticeships

Apprenticeships: Building Skills and Futures

Apprenticeships have played a vital role across our projects, not only in supporting the development of future talent but also in contributing to the long-term sustainability of the industry. So far, we have proudly hosted 14 apprentices, contributing a combined total of 230 weeks of on-site experience at our Ysgol Cynefin sites. These apprentices have brought a diverse range of skills including Electrical, Engineering, Carpentry, Site Management, and Scaffolding.

By offering hands-on learning opportunities, we help apprentices gain real-world experience, build confidence, and develop the technical and professional skills needed to thrive in their careers. These placements also strengthen our commitment to social value, ensuring that our projects leave a lasting legacy in the communities we serve.

Local people employed onto the contract: 15

Work Experience opportunities for local people: 10 people
118 weeks of trainees on the project supporting their career journey

Local School Visits: 218 hours over 17 visits engaging with over 1933 pupils
147 hours of 'support into work' delivered including mentoring, mock interviews and career advice

Community Funds: £41,170

CENTREGREAT ENGINEERING

Inspiring the Next Generation: Centregreat's Involvement with Cardiff West Community High School Leads to New Apprenticeship Success

Back in 2023, Centregreat proudly took part in the Cardiff Commitment Industry Connect Scheme which was arranged and managed by Gareth McCarthy, an initiative that brings together local businesses and schools to help young people discover future career opportunities. The year-long project saw Cardiff West Community High School partner with organisations from across the construction and engineering sectors to give Year 10 students valuable insight into real-world projects and the variety of roles available.

Centregreat Engineering played a key part in the initiative, delivering an engaging classroom session led by Operations Director James Connolly and Engineering Director Dave Chapman. During the session, students learned about steel engineering, bridge design, and the processes behind delivering complex infrastructure projects.

Following the classroom session, Centregreat hosted three visits to its Cardiff engineering workshop, where around 30 students experienced first-hand how bridges and steel structures are designed and fabricated. These visits allowed students to see theory come to life and provided a glimpse into the dynamic world of engineering and construction.

One student in particular, Year 10 pupil Ashley Brockway, showed a keen interest in learning more about Centregreat's work - especially the electrical side of the business. Ashley returned for a second visit, eager to deepen his understanding. Over the next two years, he stayed in touch with Dave Chapman, demonstrating his enthusiasm and commitment to pursuing a career in the industry.

That dedication paid off. In 2024, Dave Chapman presented Ashley with an award at the Cardiff West Community High School Awards ceremony in recognition of his continued interest and engagement. In 2025, shortly after completing Year 12, Ashley was offered an apprenticeship with Centregreat, joining the company's Traffic Signals division, where he is now beginning his career in engineering.

This inspiring journey highlights the real impact of community partnerships like the Cardiff Commitment. They not only open doors for young people but also help businesses like Centregreat nurture local talent and invest in the next generation of skilled professionals.

"Seeing Ashley's enthusiasm develop over the past two years has been incredibly rewarding," said Dave Chapman, Engineering Director at Centregreat. "It's proof that initiatives like these make a genuine difference - not just to the students, but to the future of our industry." Centregreat continues to champion opportunities that connect education with industry, ensuring that young people across South Wales can explore exciting and rewarding careers in construction, engineering, and infrastructure.

If you are working on projects across Cardiff, Vale of Glamorgan, Monmouthshire and Torfaen and would like support please get in touch.

CMB - FAIRWATER COMMUNITY CAMPUS

We were delighted to kick off our Carbon & Construction Ambassadors scheme with the fantastic pupils from Woodlands School this September.

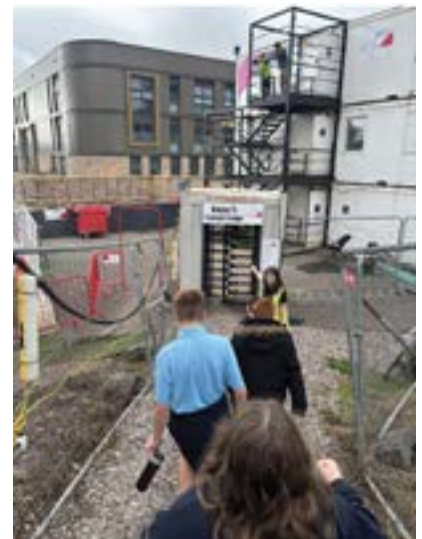

Our first group enjoyed an exciting tour of their new school site, exploring the spaces that will soon become their classrooms and activity areas. Their excitement and curiosity brought so much energy to the visit, it was wonderful to see them imagining what each room might become.

In early October, another group joined us at Fairwater Community Campus for their first hands-on learning session. Dressed as site managers, they explored what it takes to plan and build, from choosing what kind of project they'd design, to selecting materials and colours, and even spotting real plant machinery on site. They finished the session with some creative colouring, which will soon brighten up our induction cabin - a lovely reminder of their visit.

We're proud to make these sessions fun, engaging, and accessible for all learners, helping everyone experience the world of construction in their own way.

A big thank you to Angela Withey (Cardiff Council) and our CMB colleagues Alan Fry and Sarah Burge, for making the session so special - and to our young site managers for their enthusiasm (and appetite for fresh fruit!)

Here's to inspiring the next generation of builders, designers, and innovators - one inclusive experience at a time!

Fairwater Community Campus' Health & Wellbeing Block Successful Handover

Nine months after Borley Engineering Services Limited (BESL) stepped in as Interim Principal Contractor, we have now successfully handed over the first Phase of Fairwater Community Campus, with the Health & Wellbeing Block, named Copa (Welsh translation for 'summit') now operational.

Arbor launches its Social Impact Offering in Cardiff

At Arbor, we're on a mission to change the way schools work for the better. Arbor's Management Information System brings staff, students, parents and leaders together, helping everyone work better in one intuitive, shared system. There are over 10,500 schools in the Arbor Community and we're excited that Cardiff has recently chosen Arbor MIS and Arbor Finance for all 128 of its schools.

Community impact has always been at the heart of what we do, and the recent Cardiff Headteachers' Conference provided the ideal opportunity to launch our social impact offering to leaders from across the area.

At this conference, we shared a number of initiatives that schools can benefit from during the next 5 years. These range from supporting career development for students, charitable causes across the city, and driving impact in school life.

We're looking forward to getting stuck in and driving change in schools across Cardiff with our MIS, and also supporting the local community more widely.

Matthew O'Brien, Achievement Lead for Curriculum, EdTech and Information Systems added:

We're thrilled to see Cardiff schools embracing Arbor's MIS and Finance systems. This marks a significant step forward in streamlining how we support learners, staff and families. The social impact initiatives launched at the Headteachers' Conference align perfectly with our commitment to inclusive, community-driven education. I'm excited to see how this partnership will empower schools and enrich lives across the city.
